THERESA LAMBERT

How do you give someone a testimonial who has literally held an ocean's worth of space for you over 5-months?! Hiring Marcos was an intuitive decision. I knew I was ready to do the deep inner work and clear the resistance that was causing my business growth to be in an energetic chacha, and I knew he was the person who would help me do exactly that. However, the transformation and healing that resulted from our work together was something I would not have ever imagined was possible. Having a strong empowered masculine presence in my life, supported me to feel so safe and truly held while I dismantled every area of my life and business that was out of integrity with my worth and my Vision. It allowed me to drop my guard, and let myself be fully seen and expressed. I experienced being in an energetic exchange that I can only describe as true intimacy, one rooted in mutual respect, appreciation, love and compassion. Not only did it help me heal the relationship I had with myself, the way I see myself, belief in myself, love myself and be in full integrity with my self-worth. But it also showed me the type of relationship and depth of connection that's possible with a man, heal past trauma about feeling safe to share what's in my space with full transparency, and led me back to remember what true unconditional love is and feels like. The balance and space we co-created allowed for personal evolution and inspired the needed changes to my business model offer and messaging to be able to scale. I am deeply grateful to have had Marcos's support as I moved through one of the most difficult times of my life with grace while making the necessary changes to my business to experience ongoing growth. My business generated $77,000 in sales over the time we worked together and I know it is a reflection of the inner work, and refinements I made to my business with his support. If you are thinking about hiring Marcos or joining Profit & Worth, stop hesitating and do it. On the other side of that scary investment is an entirely new way of being that will allow you to feel emotionally wealthy and create the results in your business that you desire. Thank you for everything—my heart is filled with gratitude and appreciation.

Working with Marcos has been a very expansive experience. Initially the intention was to seek mentorship with a focus on building out a more sustainable and scalable structure for my practice.

When Marcos and I first connected I shared my current structure and how my practice was operating. Marcos was immediately able to hone in on what was going on and had many suggestions as to how I could build out something much more sustainable in a way that would be much less demanding. I was on the verge of a total crisis as I had been undercharging and structuring my practice in a way that was leaving me completely depleted and unable to show up in ways I knew I was capable of.

I was in tears during our first conversation, as Marcos showed me there is another way. What I didn't anticipate was the depth and scope of the journey we were about to embark on. With Marcos's gift/ability to feel into areas that may need to be brought to the forefront of one's awareness, we dove into unconscious areas of awareness that I was being incredibly self-destructive towards myself.

He was able to help me see where there were gaps that existed between how I was being, how I wanted to be, and how this was being reflected in my business. Marcos was able to do this in a way that did not feel harsh or intimidating. Instead, I felt empowered, and in many ways, the space he created offered permission for me to see myself completely bare with all disillusionment and unconscious identity/personality attachments that were in my way were called out like a magician that had been caught in the act. This part of the process of working together was very much focused on the inner journey.

As I went through the process of integration we continued with the program at a pace that my nervous system could handle. There was this contraction into self that prompted deep awareness, healing, and integration while simultaneously inviting the external expression of creative form to take place in real-time. The dance between a newly formed sense of self and the creative process of laying out the foundations for my business became this harmonious dance.

Marcos remained patient, understanding and encouraging throughout the process. Celebrating in moments of celebration, allowing rest when needed and pushing when a push is what was needed to create motivation through the resistance.

Each program including the Remarkable Offer, Five Figure Fundamentals, and Prospecting Pro was an interwoven intrinsic and creative process that provided a profound sense of clarity so that action could be taken to build something I am truly passionate about in a way that is sustainable and reciprocal, so it can be offered from a place that I can continuously show up as my best.

I am so grateful that Marcos was there every step of the way. His support and leadership truly granted me the opportunity to make big powerful shifts in my life. I really appreciated how he held me accountable throughout the process, as this did not allow me to succumb to old patterns of tapping out when the resistance became too much. He knew what was needed and when to offer it.

This has been an incredible conscious driven integrative process that is built in a way that brings you and your business/practice to its truest/best form. I am beyond grateful for the opportunity to work with Marcos and feel there truly is no one else that could have created this experience.

Thank you Marcos for continuing to be a part of this journey.

Working with Marcos has been an incredible experience. From the beginning, he was committed to my mindset and took his time to support me in removing my limited beliefs, even before we got to building out the program. He was attentive and committed both in a masculine and feminine energetic way.

I have struggled for a long time to create a program that truly resonated with my target audience, I was feeling overwhelmed and unsure of where to start. However, from the very first session with Marcos, I felt a sense of relief. I had found someone who would be with me every step of the way. He also was very responsive on what's app and made sure to give me time and offer advice at a moment's notice.

Marcos has a unique GIFT to listening and understanding my needs, offering personal guidance and support to help me achieve my goals. Through a combination of co-creating sessions, accountability structure, authentic and powerful feedback, and innovative tools and techniques, Marcos helped me create a program that exceeded my expectations and that I feel proud to share with others.

The impact of Marcos's guidance has been truly transformational and heart-centred. My program has received incredible feedback from my target audience and within a month of completing my time with Marcos, with his guidance, I enrolled my first high-ticket client and I get to provide value to them and others. I would highly recommend Marcos to anyone looking to create a successful program. His knowledge and guidance have been invaluable, and I am truly grateful for the opportunity to work with them. The energy brought to all sessions and calls was one of safety, trust and ease.

“I have wanted to launch my private coaching practice for the past 2 years... Even though I knew how much I have to offer, I kept starting, stopping, and stalling. What was missing for me was the structure, framework, presentation and enrolment skills. I got all of this and so much more!! Within 48 hours of completing the Prospecting Pro training, I secured 2 new clients and made 8K in sales. Now, 3 months later, I've earned over $100,000 because of Marcos' High Ticket Sales Training.

If you are thinking about starting a career as a coach and want to develop a lucrative program, this team will teach you everything you need to get started and keep going.

Thank you Marcos for sharing your knowledge and skills with me”

Marcos helped me feel heard, empowered and supported but he also pushed me in the most nurturing of ways to help me see my gifts in a different light and was able to verbalize everything I've envisioned in my mind, and yet I was unable to verbalize which he does so beautifully.

I truly appreciate his guidance.

His intuition and the wisdom and insights he shared with me, and I am so looking forward to using all of this inspiration for growth, expansion and change in my business moving forward.

SHERRY BAGNATO

“It takes a lot of depth, breadth and savvy to be a successful coach. Marcos has it.

He is intuitive enough to understand human nature, savvy enough to know how to market you and care enough to over-deliver.

Oh, did I mention passion? Enough for everyone in the room.

More importantly, he has a social media strategy that will separate your business from the online crowd, if you follow his steps.

Highly recommend!”

DAVID PINEO
